Pair of Champs Have Narrow Rub at Manchester

Manchester, Mass., July 28.—(P)—One upset and a narrow escape for a pair of champions marked today's play in the second annual women's tennis tourney on the Essex County country club's turf courts.

The upset came in the mixed doubles, which with one exception reached the semi-final round, when number 2 seeded team of Miss Eleanor Goss of New York and Dr. G. C. Collet of Manchester was eliminated 2-6, 6-1, 6-2, by Miss Margaret Blake of Lenox and Fritz M. Bundy of Boston.

In the quarter-final round of the women's doubles Mrs. William Endicott and Mrs. J. D. Vorse of Boston, 1925 national indoor doubles champions, narrowly escaped defeat at the hands of Miss Isabella Mumford and Mrs. E. H. Godfrey. They won out, 2-6, 6-2, 8-6, but not before their opponents were within two points of the match in the final set.

Rickard Looks For $1,500,000 Gate Dempsey and Tunney

New York, July 28.—(P)—Expressing confidence that the licensing angle will offset serious obstacle, Tex Rickard today predicted today that the heavyweight championship battle between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney, slated for New York in September at the Yankee Stadium, will attract a crowd of 80,000 and a "gate" of approximately $1,500,000.

These figures, which in attendance would be exceeded only by Dempsey-Firpo, Dempsey-Carpentier and Firpo-Willard fights and in receipts only by the Dempsey-Carpentier affair, were based by the promoter on a price scale ranging from $10 to $30, depending upon sanction of the commission. Returning from Chicago this morning, Rickard said he had the firm of events that has moved the prospective setting for the fight back to New York. Rickard plunged at once into a mass of detailed arrangements. He did so on the assumption that yesterday's action of the commission in voting approval of the match was decisive and that there will be no difficulties in obtaining formal licenses for the bout and for each of the fighters from the license commission.

A Major League Minor

By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1926, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service.

"Lindstrom, the Great." And why not? For besides being nicknamed Frederick Charles (and who hasn't heard of Frederick the Great and Charles the Great?), the Giants' brilliant young star is one of the three best third basemen in the business right now, and is improving steadily all the time. Freddie is a fast, good fielder. Freddie is batting well over .300, and Freddie isn't yet 21! You might easily say that here is a young man with a bright baseball future!

When this youngster celebrates his twenty-first birthday next November, he can, unless some unforeseen accident occurs, point with pride to a three-year record in the major leagues that any veteran would be proud of. In 1924, as utility player, he took part in seven games and batted 253. And he starred in the world series at the age of 18, getting ten hits in the seven games and accepting twenty-five chances without an error. Last year he played in exactly twice as many games as in 1924, and batted .287. This year, unless all the doings go wrong, he will play a full season and easily exceed all his previous marks in runs, stolen bases, and batting.

I bumped into Heinie Groh's successor in Boston at the time of the intercollegiate track meet. "Gee, I'd love to see those games tomorrow," he said. "There's nothing I'd rather do than watch a good track meet." And when you remember that the youngster played football and basketball at Loyola High in Chicago, and is a six-day bike fan as well, you'd agree that baseball isn't his only interest in life. Think what a wonder he'd be if it was!

Former Browns Made Big Showing Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)
A day of accomplishments for some of St. Louis in the major leagues who no longer perform in the Mound City team will be recorded even though the Pittsburgh Pirates toppled the anxious Browns today. The Browns hit their 31st home run of the season.

Hank Severid hit two doubles and a single in New York's 6 to 5 victory over the Browns yesterday. The Yankees, who had been out of the lead for some time, were playing for some time. The carried his bat along as well as a milt. Bill Jacobson, center fielder for the Browns for some years, had a home run, double and three singles in the Red Sox 7 to 0 victory over Detroit.

The Babe's lift in St. Louis placed him within five of his 1921 mark in home runs and doubles. He had 11 home runs and 11 doubles in 1921, but the bats of Seaverid, Combs, really won the battle. Combs hit a homer, and McManus and Rice of the Browns did likewise.

Jacobson's heavy hitting supported a superb pitching performance by the late Philadelphia, Slim Harris, who granted the Tigers only five safeties. Goose Goslin was reinstated by the Browns and pitched largely to the Senators 7 to 2 conquest of Chicago. Walter Johnson kept nine hits while scattered, while the Goose was gathering a triple and single, scoring two runs, stealing a base, catching six flies and assisting in two putouts, one at the plate. Goslin was benched last week for indifferent playing.

Loose fielding by Emil Meusel in the early innings gave the Pirates a start that the Giants could not overcome, and he was benched after the third. Jimmy Johnston went to center and Tyson into left. Jackson and Lindstrom of the Giants obtained home runs, both to the left field stands.

Cincinnati gained an even break in a double bill with Brooklyn, the Dodgers taking the first 6 to 2 behind McGraw's good pitching, and the Reds the second 2 to 0 when Carl Mays delivered a five-hit performance. A Cardinal scored a total of 15 hits, was almost equalled by the Phillies, but St. Louis won 5 to 6 with Ray Blades and Bill Southworth leading the attack. Sand, of the Phils, hit for the circuit.

The Boston Braves won their fourth straight game by taking the first of the series from Chicago 1 to 0. Bob Smith besting Chas. Roe in a pitching duel. Only four hits were made off Smith.

"Nats" To Clash With Pittsfield Today

(Special to Kennebec Journal)
Waterville, July 28.—The Waterville Nationals will clash with Pittsfield Saturday afternoon at about 1 P. M. weather permitting to match their skill against the clever Pittsfield swatters. Manager Papopolos asserts that his team has now struck its stride and is willing to stake his reputation on a statement to the effect that fans will squint their eyes on as fast a game as has been played for some time. The Pittsfield outfit is not in any sense an infantile which remark may automatically endorse itself when one considers that they have won four straight games this season, losing but one game—the last played. It is without a question the star team of the Piscataquis County League.

The "Nats" have been up against some fighting enthusiasm and Pittsfield positions this season with varying success, and Papopolos believes that flitting with the fast ones has been good for his team. He will starburst perspiration is the only thing stands any chance to dampen such ardor.
